

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this recommendation for (FULL NAME) in my capacity as the Head of the Saint Petersburg School of New Cinema. I was delighted to learn that he aims to further develop his expertise in the field of arts, and strongly believe (NAME) will serve as an exceptional addition to your intellectual community.

First and foremost, (NAME) is an individual who fully devotes himself to the interests of our institution. He attended courses in Directing, Screenwriting and Cameramanhip, Cinema and Psychoanalysis, Philosophy and Cinema, and Gender Theory. Moreover, he demonstrated excellent proficiency in theoretical work, understanding the foundations of cinematographic editing and the relationship between the director and actor. Perhaps most important is the fact that (NAME) emitted active enjoyment towards his studies, witnessed by heated discussions with his fellow peers during the seminars. What is more, global filmmakers often visited the school during workshop sessions, and (NAME) was sure to attend every one of them. Overall, his active participation made him highly distinguished among his peers.

(NAME) also exemplifies the quality of true diligence. He combined his studies with a full-time job, which is, without a doubt, difficult for any student. Nonetheless, he always did his utmost to delve into every subject, taking thorough notes during seminars and watching additional films during his free time.

It fills me with great pride knowing that our program provided (NAME) with the foundation necessary to partake in the international sphere of art. His passion for studying, combined with the determined desire to expand his professional experience, give me confidence that he will do his best in pursuit of your program.

Sincerely,

(NAME)
